Arlene “Tuny” Page and Alina Win Sho Clothes Sponsored Intermediaire II at Wellington Classic Holiday Challenge

West Palm Beach, FL (December 18, 2009) – Arlene “Tuny” Page and her 11-year-old Danish Warmblood mare Alina rang in the holidays in style, winning the Intermediaire II class at the Wellington Classic Holiday Challenge. Sho Clothes sponsored the class, and Page and Alina rode away with a Sho Clothes embroidered flysheet, the perfect gift for the holidays.

Page, who owns Still Point Farm Dressage in Wellington, was pleased with Alina and their ride. “She is the classic example of a developing Grand Prix horse. Some things look pretty secure and other things look a little green, but the good news is that even in the green things her balance is changing for the better and she is stepping up to the plate,” Page said. “She is definitely a top sport horse because she tries every time. She is all you could ask for.”

Page said Alina might make her Grand Prix debut in the spring. “In the last month Alina has really started to own the piaffe and passage and is very comfortable with them,” Page said, adding that Alina’s extended trot feels like a 10.

Page was pleased that her class was sponsored by Sho Clothes, an upscale dressage boutique in Wellington that specializes in the latest and most fashionable dressage apparel for show and play. “Sho Clothes provides great support to the dressage community,” Page said. “Betsy Rebar Sell and Michele Hundt are wonderful people and very responsive to our needs and tastes.”

Sho Clothes is co-owned by Hundt and Betsy Rebar Sell and they have served the dressage community since 2001. The Sho Clothes Sho Room, located at 3220 Fairlane Farms Road in Wellington, boasts a wide variety of the finest dressage riding clothes, apparel, jewelry and dressage accessories available. Sho Clothes also hosts a monthly get together for dressage riders called “Shop Talk,” which has become a hot spot for riders to gather to learn from top professionals in the equine industry.

“We love to support the dressage community and watching our friend Tuny win a Sho Clothes sponsored class is always very special,” Hundt said.
